It's Always Farmers Market Season!

Just because it's winter doesn't mean there isn't plenty of fresh and locally grown, raised and produced food available!

More and more folks are discovering the benefits of community, shopping from small independently run businesses and supporting the local economy. Organized entirely by community members since 2004 to connect consumers directly to the folks who produce their food and create a welcoming community space around a healthy lifestyle is what the West Windsor Community Farmers Market is all about!

Winter/early spring markets continue on the first and third Saturdays, 10:00am-1:00pm through April 20.

Main season markets start right back up again on May 4 and run weekly, 9:00am-1:00pm up to Thanksgiving.

Held at the Vaughn Lot at the Princeton Junction Train Station, with plenty of free parking, this gathering space for folks who love good food is known for its wide assortment of offerings and welcoming atmosphere.

Market Manager, Chris Cirkus says, "there is nothing quite like the energy created when the greater community gathers in a positive environment - especially when fresh food is involved!"

Nearly forty farms and vendors are represented with offerings including seasonal Jersey Fresh produce, mushrooms, sustainably caught seafood, poultry, pastured eggs, freshly milled oats, pickles, sauces, jams, fresh pasta, goats milk products, cheese, breads, baked goods, pastries, pastured meats, vegan savory and sweets, Lebanese salads, Eastern European favorites, Indian simmer sauces and prepared meals, alpaca fiber wear, vegan chocolates, pesticide-free flowers, as well as on-site food trucks with crepes, fresh pressed juices, hot and iced coffee and teas. Knife sharpening service on the first Saturdays of each month. Weekly composting service.

Visit wwcfm.org for more information. Entrance from 877 Alexander Rd, West Windsor
